Eagle feathers were prized by some groups of people in North America because they came from strong and powerful birds. Look out for Chief Red Dog's feathered headdress.

Second Floor

Look for the display case near the large stone doorway.

Can you see the green-coloured objects made from Jadeite?

This hard green mineral was very special to the Ancient Maya. They believed it was a living breathing thing connected to water and plants, the sun and the wind. It was often used to make jewellery worn by important people.
